FROM THE UPPER MISSOURI.—The steamer Spread Eagle arrived at St. Louis, on Friday evening, from a point on the Upper Missouri, two thousand five hundred miles distant from St. Louis, and one hundred and eighty miles beyond Fort Union, at the mouth of the Yellowstone. Forty-eight days had elased since her departnre from St. Louis on business connected with the American fur company. She brought about 5,000 packs of furs, and 50 mountaineers, men attired partly in Indian garb, and with fan's almost as dark as that of the Indian.

The Indians, as far as known. were quiet, and showed no disposition to fight amougst themselves, or to trouble the whites, excepting on one occasion, as follows. On the down trip, a band of armed As siniboins were observed congregated on the bank, and made signals inviting the boat to land. The officers not thinking it quite safe to do so, determined to panse, and sounded the bell as if about to land, but kept her mooring swiftly past.

The Indians were of conrse highly displeased at this movement and fired a volley at the boat, but fortnnately only one bullet struck the boat. No one but hart. This was the last seen of these Indians.

We learn from the Kingston (Canada) News that the Iceberg, Dr. Rae's vessel, which he has been building for his new Arctic expedition, was launched on Saturday week in presence of a large concourse of spectators. The Iceberg is rigged as a brigantine, and measures 117 tons, carpenters' measurement, but will probably be registered at about 80 tons. She has been built with great strength, to fit her for the heavy work she is destined to encounter. The season being too far andvanced to enter upon her proper mission, she will be engaged in freighting till the fall, when Dr. Rae will take her to England, and be prepared next spring to carry her into the Polar Sea, to accomplish the mission he has set himself to perform.

to of GOLD ANTICIPATED .- A private letter, which came by the last steamer, from a gentleman in San Francisco, states that in the writer's opinion the yield of gold for the year 1857 will not be much short of one hundred millions of dollars. The assumption is based on the knowledge that the facilities for washing have been greatly increased by the completion of numerous canals and ditches which have been in progress for a year or two past. The letter further states that trade in San Francisco will be good throughout the summer.

Nothing New-By the author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," &c. New York: Harper & Brothers. This is a series of tales by the celebrated authoress, Miss Muloch. Her reputation as a writer will make it eagerly sought after. The stories are "Lord Erl-"Alwyn's First Wife," "M. Anastasius," "The Water Cure," "The Last House in C-Street," "A Family in Love," "A Low Marriage," and "The Donble House." It is published in pamphlet form

Two young men named Manlius Card and Parker Card, with their sister, were arrested at Rochester, on Monday, charged with being concerned in systematic and extensive robberies all over the country in Western New York. A vast amount of silver-ware and other valuable property, the proceeds of several burglaries, were found in boxes, buried beneath the floor of the house.

The recent rains have caused an unprecedented height of water and great damage in the lakes and streams in central New York. At Seneca Falls 200 hogs were carried off. In Syracuse the flats are covered, and a number of the salt blocks so flooded that large quantities of salt had been removed to ground for safety. Owasco Lake is higher than has been known for several years.

The postmaster's son at Purdy, Tenn., has been arrested for robbing the mail.

LOUISVILLE, KY., MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 29, 1857.

[For the Louisville Bulletin.] TO EMMA ---, ON HER MARRIAGE. I thought that I could bid thee go Without a single tear!
Nor knew thy joy could be my woe,
Thy hopes my greatest fear.

I thought I loved thee all too well To feel an inward smart; Nor knew, until those tear-drops fell, How selfish was my heart.

For life within the future seemed A vision to thluc eyes, As bright as lover ever dreamed Beneath the starry skies.

I saw the happy angel's wing Was waving o'er thee then, And knew it was a selfish thing To feel so much of pain.

And yet I know thou canst forgive That I would thus repine, And think my heart could only live Close to the pulse of thine;

Whate'er the spells around thee thrown Thy soul from doubt is free-It knows my own has never known A thought unkind to thee.

Those selfish tears were all repressed, But weary days would come, When silent lips too well confessed How cheerless was my home.

I do not ask to love thee iess-It were a useless prayer— But I will teach my heart to bless The home it may not share.

I wish that it may ever be As free from sorrow's tears—
As bright as that you've made for me
Throughout my girlish years,

And he, whom thou hast trusted so— I only wish that he May be as faithful as I know Thine own pure soul to be

That he may love thee half as well. And hold thy weal as dear.

As one who could not say farewell Without a selfish tear.

Office at Shippingport, in the Canal Office. Office at Louisville, Durrett's Clothing Store, corner Fourth and Water streets.

There were 7 feet 4 inches water in the canal last evening, and 41/2 feet in the pass on the falls. The recent high water has accumulated a good deal of wood at the head of the canal, and boats drawing as much water as the mark indicates encounter some difficulty. The weather has been very warm, and last evening we were visited by a storm.

The Fashion .- This fine steamer is the packet for St. Louis to-day. She has excellent accommodations and provender for her passengers. Capt. J. M. Martin is her commander and Messrs. Smith and De Hart officiate as clerks. They are all great favorites with the traveling public.

For New Orleans .- Passengers by to-morrow (Tuesday) train will reach Cairo in time to connect with the splendid steamer Belfast for New Orleans. The Baltic is due from New Orleans to-day, and the T. C. Twitchell and Eclipse are due te-morrow.

The Wm. Dixon, Capt. Baugh, will leave for the Cumberland river this evening.

The W. A. Eaves is the packet for Evansville to-day.

The Jacob Strader, Capt. Summons, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day. The Clara Dean is up for Plttsburg.

ASTRONOMICAL.-The very rare and important phenomenon of the occultation of a star of third magnitude (Delta Geminorum) by Saturn will occur to-night, and if circumstances permit of its observation, may be of great importance, as affording information concerning the structure and number of divisions of Saturn's ring. A star of such brightness would not fail to make manifest every division in the ring by gleaming through at each instant that tation of a star so bright as Delta Geminorum is computed by Dr. Winnecke as happening only once in 1,500 years, and the rarity and interest of the phenomenon is greatly enhanced in the present instance by the fact that in this case the star is double

MEETING OF THE INDIANA FREE BANKERS .- A meeting of the Free Bankers of Indiana was held in Indianapolis on the 25th inst. The gathering was an exclusive one, private and secret. Its purpose, however, has transpired, and was the taking of steps toward the establishing in Indianapolis of a Union Bank, in which all the Free Banks of the State are to be stockholders, with a capital of $200,000. The object of this is the protection of Indiana Free Bank currency by driving out Ohio, Virginia, and all ther foreign bank notes, to put down the rate of exchange, and to further the adoption of such a policy as shall, with reference to foreign bankers, be promotive of the interests of those concerned.

UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT .- On Saturday after noon, Mr. W. H. Randall, a compositor employed in this office, while carelessly seated in the thirdstory window of our building, lost his balance and fell to the pavement. In the fall he struck the awn ing, breaking his leg. Mr. R. was sendered unconscious and serions fears were entertained of the accident proving immediately fatal. Physicians were called in and he was removed to his residence.

Yesterday the unfortunate man was much better but his surgeon says that he cannot tell the extent of the injuries until some days have elapsed.

OUR FASHION LETTER .- We give to-day, from our regular New York correspondent, the fashlons for the ensuing month. Our correspondent is high authority on the subject on which she treats, and we have the assnrance of many of our fair readers that the letters have invariably been found correct and in structive in every particular.

THE VOTE FOR APPELLATE JUDGE.-We are informed that a private telegraphic dispatch from Frankfort, on Saturday evening, gives the vote in Monroe county—Bullitt 300, and Wheat 218. The The returns from Russell had not been received at Frankfort on Saturday evening.

The Nautillus, an American invention for working beneath the sea, in almost any depth of water, we are glad to see, has proved a complete enccess with the English mind.

The Oswego (N. Y.) Times states that snow fell on Monday night in sufficient quantity to be observed on the side-walks by early risers on Tuesday morning. This for the 23d of June is the crowning act of the long series of weather atrocities to which we have submitted.

The Columbia (Tenn.) Mirror notices the reception of a cotton-bowl measuring nearly two inches in circumference. It is from the home-place of Col. Andrew J. Polk, at Ashwood, and was gathered on Tuesday the 23d.

Two sons of Mr. John M. Bramwell, of Indianapolis, one aged 7 and the other 10 years, were drowned near that city on Friday. They were bathing and the older lost his life in attempting to rescue his brother.

The Bonaparte estate, in Bordentown, N. J. with the extensive park and grounds, was offered at auction on Wednesday, but there was no bidders present, and the sale was indefinitely postponed. This estate cost $200,000.

Novel Celebraticn .- The prisoners of the Indiana penitentiary at Jeffersonville, are to have a grand public celebration "within the walls," on the 4th of July.

A private dispatch states that the South Royalton Bank of Vermont is enjoined and that her notes are thrown out in New York city.

THE U. S. AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY. - The arrangements for the summer trial of harvesting implements to take place at Syracuse, N. Y., from the 8th to the 13th of July, under the anspices of the United States Agricultural Society, are nearly completed. Nearly one hundred implements have been entered for competition. They come from all parts of the country, from the extreme West as well as the North and East. It will be in every respect a national exhibition and will be full of interest to the whole agricultural community.

The machines entered will all be exhibited at the annual exhibition of the Society near this city, commencing September 1, when a trial of plows and other farming implements will take place. The implement department at the fall exhibition is confidently expected to surpass any exhibition that has ever been held in this country or in Europe. The premiums upon the harvesting implements will be awarded in September at Louisville.

A cotemporary thus describes the grand gold medals of honor to be awarded by the Society:

meduls of honor to be awarded by the Society:

We have been shown a cut of the great gold medal of the United States Society. It is decidedly the most massive one and has the most appropriate design of any we have seen. Its diameter is three inches, and it will cost the Society about one hundred and fifty dollars. The face represents a majestic female figure seated upon a throne.
In the right hand, which is clevated and extended forward in an attinde of invitation, she holds a crown of lauret; in her left she holds the sickle—emblem of agricultural industry. In her lap are gathered various fruits. Her noble brow is covered with the wreath of Empire, and her prond and expressive countenance manifests her dignified rank as the impartial disposer of awards to the competitors.
Around the rim of the medal is the classic wreath of sarrel, and within this the words, in Roman letters—"UNITED STATES AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY, INSTITUTED MOCCULI."

The adverse side is ornamented simply with a wreath of plants, the productions of the grand divisions of the United States, emblematic of the national character of the Society. On one side are the sugar cane and cotton plant, on the other the Indian corn and wheat, and at the bottom, uniting the two, is a grape ving laden with fruit and isaves.
Thus the great staples of the South, North, West, and East are wreathed together.

The beauty of the decigns of this medal is their great simplicity. The Society have wisely avoided the pernicious taxte often displayed by others—that of crowding upon their medals the eutire contents of an implement manufactory and seed store to serve as entilems of agricultural industry.

NATIONAL GUARD OF ST. LOUIS.—It will be seen

NATIONAL GUARD OF ST. LOUIS .- It will be seen from the following letter that this fine military corps will arrive in this city on the morning of the 3d, en route for Lexington, to attend the laying of the corner stone of the Clay Monument. Our two new military companies, though not yet uniformed, will doubtless take some steps for their reception and entertainment during their sojourn in this city. It has been long since an opportunity was offered our citizens to welcome among them a volunteer military company from a sister city. We suggest to our gallant volunteers to set at work without delay to give the "National Guards" a hearty and proper reception and entertainment, that will be worthy of Kentucky and of Louisville:

To the Editors of the Louisville Journal:

Sr. Louis, June 26, 1857.

GENTLEMEN:—I learn this morning from an officer of the "National Gnard" that they will positively visit Lexingron on the 4th of July. This fine company of whole-souled fellows is one of the "institutions" of our city of which we are of the "institutions" of our city of which we are all proud. Many of them are natives of our noble old State, and you will undoubtedly extend to them an old-fashioned Kentucky welcome. They leave here on the afternoon of the 2d of July, via Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, and will reach your city on the morning of the 3d. They will be accompanied by LeBraun's celebrated brass band. In haste, yours truly, KENTUCKY.

Monile, Ala., June 22d, 1857. To Adjutant General Phil. R. Thompson, Nicaraguian

Army: DEAR SIR: I hasten to congratulate you upon the great zeal and ardor the inerchants and planters of Alabama are taking in the cause of Nicaragua and General Walker and the interest felt by the people throughout the States of Georgia and South Carolina. There have been large and enthusiastic meetings held in Charleston, Colombia, and Georgetown, also in Savanneh Angusta and Columbus Georgetown, also, in Savannah, Angusta, and Columbus, Geor-gia, and contributions have been made to the amount of $760,000 to aid and assist Gen. Walker, but his cause is in the ascendancy, and must ultimately succeed. The work goes bravely on. You will hear from me again at Galveston, Texas. ANDREW WHIPPLE, Major Nicaraguian Army, Central America.

Mr. Tyler, in his much-lauded address at the amestown celebration, alludes to the culture of the early Colonists in the following perspicuous sentence: At a period somewhat later this was manifested in the publication of a translation, by George Sandys, who was Preasurer of the Colony, of Ovid's Metamorphoses and a part of the Encid, whom Dryden pronounced to be the set versifier of the age, and Pope, in his to the Hiad, declared that English poetry onced much of its beauty to his translations.

CRIMINAL COURT.—Patrick M. Duffey, indicted as a principal in the murder of McMillan, gave bail

[Correspondence of the Louisville Journal FASHIONABLE INTELLIGENCE. FASILIONS FORJULY.

New York, June 23. The long continuation of the cold, damp, unpleas ant weather has been a constant source of complaint from all quarters. The mercantile world especially has suffered the most injurious consequences from this unusual state of things, which it is feared the tardy glimpses of sunshine we have had recently will not remove. The recent fearful police commotion which has agitated the city has by no means tended to allay this state of feeling. Outside traffic, upon which New York, greatly depends, is almost suspended, and, even if no more serious results follow, the greatest deeven if no more serious results follow, the greatest de-pression in the business world must ensue. At present there is little trace of the joyous activity which generally characterises this season, when citizens are preparing for pleasant summer excur-sions, and the splendid stores are filled with gay fabrics, to attract the eye and open the purse strings of the passers by. But now the goods hang with a melancholy look in the windows, purchasers are scarce, and these only buy cheap articles, and groups of men stand on the corners of the streets, and talk in low tones with downcast eyes and groups of men stand on the corners of the streets, and talk in low tones, with downcast eyes and doubtful expression, as if it was impossible to tell what all this was coming to.

In the midst of the general collapse, however, one feature of city life remains in undisturbed possession of the field, and that is hoops. Hoops are undoubtedly in the ascendant; never have they been so large as this season, and the comparison between the full skirts and the slim ones resulted so unfavorably to the latter that they were simultaneously so large as this season, and the comparison between the full skirts and the slim ones resulted so unfavorably to the latter that they were simultaneously abandoned by the few persons who had assumed them. The introduction of several improvements has also served to increase their popularity, and it would seem too bad to relinquish them now when the manufacture has attained a perfection in the highest degree conducive to feminine comfort. A new skirt called the "Crystal" is the most perfect in shape and the most graceful in style of any which has been presented. It is very light and has created a furore wherever it is known. While examining it at the manufacturers, a week ago, an order was received from one dealer for 3,000 doz., who had taken 100 doz. the week before to try. A still later novelty is called the "Opera" skirt; it is made of muslin, with light steel or whalebone springs, and combines an "adjustable bustle," made expressly to wear with the deep basques now in vogue. The principal feature, however, is the opening down the entire front, so that it can be folded over in a crowded assembly, thus taking up no more room than an ordinary skirt. At first it agents are if this might injure sembly, thus taking up no more room than an ordinary skirt. At first it seems as if this might injure its grace and symmetry, but it is found not to do so in the least, if two full skirts are worn over, as should be the case always with hoops of any description, so as to prevent any trace of the ridge formed by the springs, and to insure ease and elegance of carriage.

SKIRTS OF THE EMPRESS EUGENIE - EXCITEMENT AMONG THE OMNIBUSES.

AMONG THE OMNIBUSES.

The perfection of grace which the contour of the skirts of the Empress Eugenie have attained has been a matter of envy to all the ladies of the French Court. Numerous have been the effort to combine the soft and airy lightness which always distinguish the imperial toileite, but always without success. Hoops by the same makers were worn, and skirts piled upon them, each one of finer texture than the last, that being the way in which it was said the Empress attained the much desired result. But alas! the same result did not follow, and the ladies were in despair until the waiting woman of a lovely and newly-made Countess obtained the secret from the tire-woman of the Empress. It was simply the placing of innumerable tained the secret from the tire-woman of the Empress. It was simply the placing of innumerable flounces of tutle over a very graceful hoop, composed of 24 springs of light steel; of course they were entirely useless after a day's wear, and after being removed were supplied by others. This idea is decidedly excellent when applied under roles of light tissue, but could only be of use in the form of fine crinoline under heavier materials, as i would require more substance than tulle possesses

To resist the pressure.

A serious innovation is contemplated by the New York stage proprietors, and has already been acted upon in one or two instances. On one of these occasions the consequences were so nearly akin to the seriously ridiculous that it may deter them from trying it again. For the past two weeks a placed seriously ridiculous that it may deter them from trying it again. For the past two weeks a placard has been placed in some of the up town stages with "Ladies Wearing Hoops 12 cents" stuck upon it in large letters. On a very wet day six ladies found themselves inside one of these stages and determined, since they had to pay double price, to take the comfort of it. As most of them wore the new "opera" hoop, a sndden collapse accompanied their sitting down, leaving plenty of room for half a dozen others, they occupying no more space than ladies without hoops. This the driver observed, and as it rained hard, and he thought the womeu would not dare to say anything, although he had taken the twelve cents from them on entering the stage as is twelve cents from them on entering the stage as is twelve cents from them on entering the stage as is the custom, he determined to try his chance at making a grand haul by putting in the usual number (on rainy days) of twenty-three and making the ladies pay double. In a very few moments several drenched individuals of the masculine gender rushed up to the door and were about entering sans ceremonie, when they were informed by the female occupants that the stage was "full." Glancing the the empty seats and then at their full informatics. at the empty seats, and then at their fair informants whom the gentlemen evidently thought slightly crazy, one of them said politely, he thought the ladies were mistaken, there seemed to be plenty of ladies were inistaken, there seemed to be pienty of room, and in the ineantime he and his friends were becoming soaking wet. The ladies regretted "infintely," but could not help it, pointed to the placard, and then to their number, when the gentlemen saw the joke and withdrew, the driver swearing at them vociferously. The same thing was repeated many times along the route with the same result, until the driver became almost insane with rage, and the "hoops" were in convulsions at their success.

THE CHECKS MANIA, CIRCULAR CLOAKS, FANCY

GOODS The passion for check goods has been quite French in its extravagance this season; at first they appeared in fine foulard silks and summer poplins, which were expensive, and bought only by the most decidedly fashionable persons, but the rapid imitation in all kinds of cheap fabrics hus made them universal until every woman and every store has become a mass of uniform black and white check. One good it has achieved, which is a neat and lady-like walking-dress at a very moderate price, a great desider atum in our dirty and extravagant city, although it is feared that its universal popularity will insure as rapid a decline as its rise was sudden, our fashionable women not being willing to wear a garment, be it ever so convenient or becoming, after it has been successfully imitated by the masses; we are so truly democratic and republic Circular cloaks are a general appendage to the promenade toilette and are made in all kinds of mapromenade to lette and are made in an kinds of ma-terials, checked summer poplin, China silk, linen checks, fine drab grenadine, and thin India muslin. The latest and most distinguished styles are cut quite short and a very deep flounce attached, which is put in large box plaits, with a braid heading. The central part of the hood is precisely the shape of a single half handkerchief, the broad side being gathered at the throat, and a tassel suspended from gamered at the throat, and a teach side are pieces cut so as to for u the proper shape to the hood, and points on either side the central one, to each of which tassels CRIMINAL COURT.—Patrick M. Duffey, indicted as a principal in the murder of McMillan, gave bail yesterday in the sum of $5,000 for his appearance to the next term of the court. Wade H. graceful and exceedingly distingue style is also formed in a small shawl-shaped form, which reaches only to the waist, and to which is attached a very deep and full flounce, which sweeps nearly the entire skirt. One of these was observed upon a lady well known as a leader in the fashionable world and who wore at the same time a robe of fine white grenadine, with flounces, embroidered in saffron cherry. The bonnet was small, very stylish in shape, and composed of a mixture of chip and lace, with a chenille plnme on one side and a cluster of transparent cherry berries on the other.

A great deal of taste is displayed in shoca, gloves, hosiery, pocket handkerchiefs, and fancy goods of various kinds. Fineness and delicacy are the qualities sought for, and in these they are attaining exquisite perfection. Mits of Maltese lace, with gauntlet cuffs or flounces upon that part which extends upon the arm; hose of the finest Lisle thread, in small designs, which are worn with the high-heeled slipper, form coquettish and elegant accompaniments, not only to the morning but the promenade toilette. For pocket handkerchiefs inordinate prices are paid, and the latest have the corners cut off so as nearly to form a circle; the workmanship being the finest possible and the size very small. A pretty and favorite idea for demi-toilette is to cut a thry centre of French cambric, and sew on the edge a half inch of Valenciennes insertion, alternating it with a quarter inch insertion of the cambric, then another of the Valenciennes, and so on until three rows of each are obtained, ending with one of cambric, which is edged with inch and a half Valenciennes lace.

Chenille is being applied to decorations in an infinite variety of ways with great success. Superb head-dresses are made of very thick strands braided into a sort of Polish cap with very heavy tassels on one side. The colors must be very brilliant and striking scarlet, and scarlet and black being the most in vogue. Pointed berthes are also made in all colors of a diamond net-work of chenille, at each junction of which is fastened a large chenille drop button. These are very pretty with white or light dresses.

The Memphis Bulletin of Thursday has the followng particulars of the late ontbreak in that city, of which the telegraph made mention a few days ago: ANOTHER HORRIBLE DEED OF BLOOD .- Yester-ANOTHER HORRIBLE DEED OF BLOOD.—Yester-day evening, about five o'clock, the public were shocked and enraged at hearing of the death of one of our best and most worthy citizens, John Everson, who was shot and instantly killed by John Abel, a son of Joe Abel.

From all the information we could gather, but little or no cause or proporation was given by the deceased.

From all the information we could gaiher, but little or no cause or provocation was given by the deceased to justify the horrible deed. They were seated in front of the Worsham House, and it is not known by those who were near that any angry words passed between them. The first thing that occurred which attracted attention was Abel rising and shooting Mr. Everson. He shot him through the heart, and he fell upon the pavement and died almost instantly, without speaking a word. Abel endeavored to make his escape, but he was soon arrested and taken to the escape, but he was soon arrested and taken to the

In a few moments after he was arrested a large and infuriated crowd assembled, first upon the ground where the bloody deed was committed, and then proceeded to the jail with the view of taking and hanging him immediately; and had not the crowd been checked by several gentleman who took an active part in trying to quiet it, they would most certainly have hung him. The crowd was addressed by Mayor hung him. The crowd was addressed by Mayor Douglas, Col. Jno. Martin, Gen. W. T. Haskell, Col. J. H. Mahon, and others, who urged them to deliberate and consider before proceeding further in such an important move. The crowd was very large, numbering between two and three thousand citizens, who were very greatly excited and much engaged. who were very greatly excited and much enraged. Finally Mr. Oliver Greenlaw proposed that a committee of fifty persons be appointed to guard the jail, and see that Able did not escape, and that the meeting adjourn to meet at Court Square at half past 8 o'clock in the evening, which was agreed to—the committee was appointed and the meeting dispersed At about eight o'clock the crowd commenced

At about eight o clock the crowd commenced assembling at Exchange Building, and that spacious hall was soon crowded to overflowing. There were between 4,000 and 5,000 persons present in and surrounding the hall. The greatest excitement pervaded the entire crowd. We have never before seen the house so densely crowded, or the people more highly

The meeting was organized by calling Dr. J. C. Holland to the chair; after which it was proposed and agreed to that a jury of six from each Ward, making thirty-six persons, be selected to act upon the case. They were duly selected from our best and most prudent citizens; and, after being empanneled, witnesses were brought before them, and their evidence in the case taken. The evidence, by those who saw the difficulty, was very strong, and, at the time-it was given in, excited great indignation among the crowd crowd.

After hearing all the witnesses that could be found, and each of their statements were fully sustained by the others, the jury retired and were about an hour and a half considering the case. They were divided in their opinion as to the verdict, twenty-six being in favor of leaving his case to take its regular course at law—it being in their opinion such a plain and palp-able case of murder in the first degree—while twelve men were for taking out the prisoner and hanging him forthwith.

men were for taking on the prisoner and hanging, him forthwith.

The report of the lay was submitted to the assembly, and also taken fourths of the crowd sustained the action of the twelve. The crowd was greatly excited, and had they been headed by a leader their purpose would ave been summarily carried into effect. But having no leader, the crowd, soon after its adjournment, dispersed.

While the jury was out the following resolution was adopted with great unanimity:

Resolved, That Joe Abel is hereby ordered to leave this city and county before 12 o'clock to-morrow (Thursday) never more to return.

N. B. Forrest, Oliver Greenlaw, and F. H. Clark.

(Thursday) never more to return.

N. B. Forrest, Oliver Greenlaw, and F. H. Clark, were appointed as the committee to notify Mr. Abel of the passage of the above resolution.

Just before the adjournment of the meeting, Col.

Thos. J. Finnie called the attention of the crowd, and spoke a few moments, showing the source from which all the bloodshed and murders in this city emantaed, viz: From the gamblers and gamblinghouses, and idlers and loafers about the city—and offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

mously adopted:

Resolved, That all gamblers be ordered to leave the city in ten days from this time, and if they fail to do so, they will be compelled to depart, peaceably if possible, forcibly if neccessory, and that gaming-houses be longer tolerated in this city.

EVENING BULLETIN.

MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 29, 1857.

A WRITING MACHINE.-An ingenious piece of mechanism, designed to enable a person to record his thoughts or observations while traveling in the cars, in a crowd, or in any place where ordinary writing apparatus cannot be used, has been invented by Mr. Benjamin Livermore, of Hartland, Vt. The paper on which the writing-or rather printing, for it resembles the telegraphic system of printing-is impressed, is coiled around two cylinders which revolve as the lines are completed, and the letters are worked by a set of keys. No ink is required; the letters being colored by a prepared blue paper, against which the writing paper is pressed at each movement of the keys. The machine works with great accuracy and much facility, and is very compact, not exceeding four inches in length by about two and a half in width. It can easily le carried in a side pocket, and can be used without taking it from the pocket. By it a blind person might be learned to write. Altogether it is one of the most ingenious affairs we ever examined.

The Oswego Times states that snow fell on Monday night in sufficient quantity to be observed on the side-walks by early risers on Tuesday morning. This for the 23d of June is the crowning act of the long series of weather atrocities to which we have submitted.

A CURIOUS WILL .- The Worcester (Mass.) Transcript gives the substance of the will of the late Jesse W. Goodrich, of that city, well known as a strong advocate of the temperance cause. The document itself covers fifty folio pages, and there is a codicil containing sixty-three double columned pages of printed matter. Among the bequests are a copy of the Holy Bible to each of his brothers, sisters, executors, &c., sixteen in all. Each successive owner of the volumes is to sign a "family teetotal pledge that they will neither make, buy, sell, give away, or use any kind of alcoholic or intoxicating liquors, either for drinking, culinary, medicinal, surgical, or sacramental purposes, not any tobacco, for the purpose either of chewing, smoking, or snuffing, and that by precept and example, and in all other suitable ways, at all times and places, to discountenance all such uses." Other provisions of this curious will are thus given:

He then orders his executors to subscribe for one copy for each of themselves and his relatives, of "some good temp-rance paper, advocating the disuse of tobacco, and legal and moral suasion comised" to the approximate of liquor, thirty comisfor the suppression of liquor, thirty copies bined," for the suppression of liquor, thirty copies in all for twenty-one years. He then bequeaths $200 to each of his living sisters, provided they each of them, within one year, sign the "family and teetotal pledge." He then divides his property, subject to all other bequests, among his relatives, payable every fifth, tenth, fifteenth, and twentieth year, provided that at the expiration of each period they shall make affidavit that they have kept the anti-liquor, anti-tobacco pledge in its full extent.

THE BEGINNING OF THE WORLD .- One of the greatest attractions in England is the Rev. M. Spurgeon, a minister of celebrity, although but twentyfive years of age. He is said by those who have heard him to be a most remarkable speaker and distinguished for his originality of thought and great power of language. In one of his sermons, which have recently been published, we find the following eloquent passage:

Can any man tell me when the beginning was Years ago we thought the beginning of this world was when Adam came upon it; but we have discov-ered that, thousands of years before that, God was preparing chaotic matter to make it a fit abode for man; putting races of creatures upon it, who might dic and leave behind the marks of His handlwork and unarvellous skill, before he tried His hand on man. But this was not the beginning; for revela-tion points us to a period long ere this world was fashioned—to the days when the morning stars were begotten; when, like drops of dew from the fingers of the morning, stars and constellations fell trickling from the hand of God; when, by His own lips, He launched forth ponderous orbs; when, with His own hand, He sent comets, like thunderbolts, wandering through the sky to find one day their proper dering through the sky, to find one day their proper aphere. We go back to years gone by, when worlds were made and systems fashioned; but we have not even approached the beginning yet.

Until we go to the time when all the Universe alept in the mind of God, as yet unborn, until we enter the eternity where God, the Creator, lived alone acceptables absorbed within this allowance. alone, everything sleeping within Him, all creation resting in His mighty, gigantic thought, we have not guessed the beginning. We may go back, back, back, ages upon ages. We may go back, if we may use such strange words, whole eternities, and yet never arrive at the beginning. Our wing might be tired, our imagination would die away. Could it outstrip the lightning's flashing in majesty, power, and rapidity, it would seon weary itself ere it could get to the beginning. But God from the beginning chose His people; when the unnavigated ether was yet unfanned by the wing of a single angel, when space was shoreless, or else unborn, when universal silence reigned, and not a voice or whisper shocked the solemnity of silence, when there was no being, and no motion, and nanght but God Himself, alone in His eternity; when without the song of an angel, without the attendance of even the cherubin; long or the whole of ere the living creatures were born, or the wheels of the chariot of Jehovah were fashioned; even then, "in the beginning was the Word," and in the be-ginning God's people were one with the Word, and "in the beginning He chose them unto eternal life."

PHENOMENON. - P. Johnson, writing from Carbonville, Pa., to the New York Tribune, under date of June 20, says:

A strange and startling phenomenon took place A strange and starting phenomenon took place near this city just at snnset last evening. A large cloud was seen making its appearance, coming directly from the north-west, accompanied by considerable wind. When near this place a dark looking cloud, or substance, was seen to leave the cloud and make diagonally for the earth. So soon as it struck the ground, contrary to all expectation, it became highly luminous. Making directly for a large barn that ground, contrary to all expectation, it became highly luminous. Making directly for a large barn that stood in the field, it passed through its center, setting it on fire, and continued its course, gaining in velocity as far as the eye could reach, making a straight course for the woods, melting stones of considerable size, and burning up brush and underwood, making a complete road, of a rod or more in width, for the distance of three miles, and finally fetching up against a perpendicular breast of solid anthracite coal of sixty feet in thickness, proving rather too much for its cometship, leaving nothing but a sulphurous mass behind.

AN IMPORTANT LAND OFFICE DECISION .- In reply to a letter from a southwestern (land-office) register, asking for information concerning preemptions on lands withdrawn from market for railroad purposes, in view of the provisions of the act of 3d June, 1856, the Commissioner of the Land Office has decided-

1st. That where the settlement was made with let. That where the settlement was made with good faith before the passage of the law, and all the requirements of the act of 1841 have been met by the party claiming he was entitled to file, subsequently ta the passage of the law, his declaration statement, and prove it up, as well on the odd num-statement, and prove it up, as well on the odd numbered sections as on the even.

2d. That by the act of 3d March, 1853 (chapter 143), settlements with a view to preemption are authorized npon the alternate recovered sections at any time after withdrawal and prior to the final allotment by the General Land Office.

During the destructive flood which visited Ithica, N. Y., on the night of June 17th, sweeping away buildings and drowning several persons, a woman named Hawley, the wife of a brewer, living near the river, heard above the roaring of the waters her husband's voice, in tones of agony and grief bidding her farewell. She looked from the window, but interse gloom met her eye. The long night wore away, and when morning came she heard that he, with others, had climbed into a tree near the creek for safety; the plunging torrent had uprooted the tree, hurled it against an island in midstream, and all the human beings clinging to the tree escaped to the island, except Mr. Hawley, who was swept down the stream. His lifeless body was found in the morning and brought home to his sorrow-stricken wife.

But three lives were lost by the deluge. Their

But three lives were lost by the deluge. Their names were Hawley, Matthew Carpenter, and David Coon. The Ithica Democrat estimates the loss of property in the village at about $130,000. The damage was caused principally by the giving way of the dams on Six-Mile Creek.

MOBILE AND OHIO RAILROAD - SHIPMENT OF IRON .- Capt. Church's Union Packet Company have secured the contract for shipping 20,000 tons of railroad iron for the Mobile and Ohio road, to be used on the northern end of it. The contract will be commenced at once, and iron will be delivered at Memphis, and Columbus, Ky. We suppose the track laying will be simultaneously commenced at Columbus, Ky., and Jackson, Tenn., and the whole work vigorously prosecuted to an early completion.

THE GREAT TRAGEDIENNE.—The last steamer brings the sad news that another of the gifted ones of earth is about to pass away—one who has been crowned as a great artiste in two hemispheres. We allude to Rachel. A foreign correspondent writes,

Very few hopes of the recovery of Mdlle. Rachel are entertained by the Paris medical faculty. The great tragedienne was still at Montpelier sinking fast into a hopeless decline.

fore Bartholomew Diaz christened it the "Cape of Tempests;" and as if every earnest soul has not had a Cape of Good Hope of its own, since the seas danced hand in hand around the world.

Suggestive and beautiful were the dying words of Goethe: "Open the shutters and let in more light." But not more touching than those of the schoolmaster who had grown old and gray, and with whom the term-time of life was just closing. His eyes grew dim as the shadows of death gathered eyes grew dim as the shadows of death gathered round hin, and his thought returned, for a moment, to the scene of his labor and love, and he fancied it a winter's afternoon, and the night closing early in and so, dving, he muruured: "It is growing dark; the school may be dismissed," and so, in an instant, the holiday with him was begun.

Novel Mail Matter.—Last week two young alliga-tors were received at the postoffice at Charlotte, N. C., having been sent from Smithville, N. C. Is an alligator "mailable matter," and therefore not to be stolen from the mails with impunity?

A letter from Marbourg, under the date of May 26, published in the Gazette d'Angsburg says:-

The marriage ring of Martin Luther found. It is a plain ring ornamented with a cross and the instruments of our Savior's passion, in ru-bies. On the outward side is the following inscription: D. Martino Luthero, Catharine a Bora.

Under the head of "March Squalls" an exchange regularly presented her husband with an her during the month of March for sixteen successive years.

At Albany, a few days ago, a Miss McBride swore out a warrant against her father for stealing her ear-rings to bet on a dog fight. Very probably the young lady did not care for the trinkets, but for the use to which her enthusiastic parent had put

A strange looking couple stopped at a hotel in a small town in Wisconsiu not long since. They sent out for a justice of the peace, who soon united them in the bands of a very nnusual wedlock. The bride, who was quile a young looking person, informed a lady who was present, immediately after the ceremony, that she had met that man a few days before, and that he had just lost his wife, poor man, and that her husband died last week, and left her with four children, the eldest of which was born on the same day with his eldest, and the birthday of her youngest was also the birthday of his youngest, the age of these hopeful innoceuts being six months, and it seemed so pretty to have all these little creatures around the house together.

CAN'T AFFORD A WIFE .- A lady correspondent of the Sandusky Register says—from the bottom of her heart no doubt: "It is a mournful fact that this world is full of young men who want to marry and dare not. Deny this, as some will, it is neverthe-less true, as we can easily show. In this town, for instance, there are some thirty or forty young men well to do in the way of salaries and business, yet who refue to take the step which they all want to take but do not; and why?"

She goes on to tell why: Young men of moderate income cannot afford the extravagant luxury of a wife who must live "as well as their neighbors," and, just graduated from some cozy red farm house, insists on tapestry carpets and all the rest of the gingerbread tiddlededee which makes the reputation of a modern lady and worries and wears out her husband to pay for. A young woman of modern education has no business marrying an income of less than $2,000 a year.

The lady correspondent of the Register seems to be a sensible woman, but she is unsophisticated. gives a sorrowful picture of young men ruining r health by too close application to business, in order that they may get a sufficient income to marry. "What man," she says, "of any sensi-tiveness or high sense of honor would take a woman from easy circumstances, and a pleasant and well-furnished home, to adorn his little four rooms and do his housework, as the first principles of economy would demand of him?"

would demand of him?"

We have a large acquaintance among physicians but we have never heard of many young men dying from over-work. If they cannot afford to marry, they can console themselves in other ways than hard work, and one of the worst features of this fashionable life is the utter demoralization and prostitution of both sexes, which results from the fact that an innocent married life, like modern church-going, is a luxury too expensive for any moderate means.

Buffalo Commercial.

Two English lecturers are about visiting the Unito renew the dollars (and dimes), as Æneas said when Dido asked him to relate his adventures. One of these is Irish by birth, being William Howard Russell, Doctor of Laws, by special grant from the University of Dublin (he actually was educated at what the natives call "ould Thrinity College"), and known, far and near, as "Our Own Correspondent" of the London Times, during the war in the Crimea. The other is Samuel Carter Hall, editor of the Art Journal, the crack picture-magazine of London, and better known as husband of Mrs. S. C. Hall, the better known as husband of Mrs. S. C. Hall, the most anneal, most touching, and the most amneing of all Irish female writers. Mr. Hall is supposed to be the actual, veritable Peckeniff of "Martia Chuzzlewit." For a time, and by a few, it was supposed that the late Sir Robert Peel was the original of that character. But the impression soon fuded off, and Mr. Samuel Carter Hall is universally confessed to be the man. The artist "Phiz" has even his off, in his Pecksniff, a strong personal resemblance to Mr. be the man. The artist "Phiz" has even hit off, in his Pecksnift, a strong personal resemblance to Mr. Hall—an unmistakeable resemblance, indeed.

DISTRESSING AND FATAL ACCIDENT.—The followng account of a heart-rending casualty in York ounty, Pa., we copy from the York Eagle; county, Pa., we copy from the York Eagle:

On Monday afteraoon, Mr. Casper Hibler went to his well in the yard for the purpose of drawing water, when the walls caved in, precipitating him down the well a distance of seventeen feet (the well is about forty feet deep), where he was firmly held by earth and stones, unable to extricate himself. At the time the accident occurred, Mr. Hibler was alone at home, his wife having gone to visit her mother who was ill. She returned about five o'clock and not finding her husband in the house, she called and received an answer, when on se trching for him she found that he was in the well. The alarm was immediately given and strenuous efforts made by immediately given and strenuous efforts made by the neighbors to rescue him from his perilous situa-tion. They worked faithfully, and at one time were within eighteen inches of him, the unfortunate mau within eighteen inches of him, the unfortunate mau conversing with them all the time. Their exertions, however, seemed to avail but little, for as fast as they succeeded in removing the earth and stones, fresh quantities would fall in upon him. Finding their exertions in his behalf of no avail, the doomed man shortly after midnight requested that his wife might be brought within hearing of his voice, that he might bid her a last farewell. His request was complied with, and we leave the reader to imagine the scene—the anguish of mind of her who, on the 14th of April last, he led to the altar a bride. At one o'clock on Tuesday morning he ceased to exist, and his lifeless body was found about four o'clock, much bruised, with one hand off. bruised, with one hand off.

We clip the following from the proceedings of the Grand Masonic banquet held last week in Providence, R. I.:

The fourth toast was as follows:

stripped us in growth.

Mr. Robert Morris, Senior Grand Warden of the Mr. Robert Morris, Senior Grand warden of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky, responded in an eloquent speech, which was warmly applauded. He offered the following beautiful sentiment in conclusion:

CHARLOTTE BRONTE .- Poor, in a country where wealth is worshipped; the daughter of a Yorkshire parson; destitute of personal beauty, though belong-ing to the sex in which personal beauty is most attractive; of feeble frame, though destined to a strug-gle of actual hardship; what could Charlotte Bronte do to make her life noble and productive? Necessi-ty lold her to teach, and so she harnessed her deli-cate mind to the task of dragging about the load of ignorance and contumely with which governesses in ignorance and contumely with which governesses in England are supposed to be burdened. But she was sent by God for better things. She had eyes, and saw the truth of life clearly—she had ears, and heard its chords and discords plainly. The light that was in her must shine out, and it did shine out glorionsly. After a time Jane Evre was written, and after some delay published. It came upon the literary world like a cool, bracing breeze from the hills of Yorkshire. Byronism and Bulwerism and Miss Nancyism had died the death that all falseboods must die, and in their place men and women were ready to welcome the truthful humanity, the large love, the contempt for shams, and the mercilarge love, the contempt for shams, and the merciless analysis that were daguerrecty ped on the pages of Charlotte Bronte's new work. Thenceforth she was one of the sovereigns of thought, ruling us by a divine, unquestioned right. fet her life was a

Her father does not appear to have been a very love able man; her brother nearly broke her heart by his dissipation and early death; her sisters were snatched from her one by one by the resistless grasp of consumption; and she, herself, soon after her marriage, and just as the evening sun of her day's jour-ney here began to break through the thick clouds, passed suddenly and silently through the dark val-ley into the Silent Land. We could have wished for her a longer and a happier life; but as the poet tells us, those who scale the walls of heaven and bring down the fire therefrom to kindle human hearts, nust, like Prometheus, be chained to the crags of sorrow, and ever see the vulture sailing around and above them, ready to punish their divine audacity.

"Only those are crowned and sainted, Who with grief have been acquainted."

Yet what true woman-would not give up the privilege of being an ornament to the gay world, the toy of admirers, the fair butterfly of an hour, and suffer some of Charlotle Bronte's sufferings that she with her clear vision, to hear the melodies she heard in the spirit, to feel the "rapture of creating, the fervor of invention," to reap her exceeding great reward? Her life was not a peaceful triumph, like Goethe's—nor yet an inglorious defeat, but a nation where the convend with a well deserved. patient wrestle, crowned with a well deserved hough late victory.

CHAMPAGNE-"THE BEST BRANDS" MADE IN New York.—At the present time in New York there are thirteen establishments which manufacture champague, or, in other words, convert still wines into sparkling ones; for no process has yet been discovered for producing an artificial wine which possesses the flavor and other qualities of the product of the grape. These mannfacturers use for their purpose a light French, and sometimes, if sparkling hock is to be produced, a German wine. The wine. after being prepared by precipitating all substances which would, when charged with carbonic acid, be deposited in the bottle, is subjected to a high pres-sure of carbonic acid by machinery, such as is used for the manufacture of roda water, and after being well agitated in contact with the gas, is bottled nu der pressure with a very ingenious machine.

At a festival given in New York to a distinguished statesman, the wine furnished was all made in this rity and was pronounced of excellent quality by numbers who imagined they were drinking genuine

Within the past year vast improvements have taken place in the manufacture of the article.

LARGEST MAN IN THE WORLD!-The funeral sermon of Mr. Miles Darden, who died at his resi-dence, in Henderson county, will be preached on the 4th Suuday in this month, five miles southwest from Lexington, Tenn. The Masonic fraternity will be in attendance, in full regalia, on the casion.

The deceased was, beyond all question, the largest man in the world. His height was seven feet stx medes—2 inches higher than Porter, the celebrated Kentucky Giant. His weight was a fraction over one thousand pounds. It required seventeen men to lift him in his coffin. Took over 100 feet of plank to make his coffin. He measured around the waist six feet and four inches.

After the funeral services, a friend in Henderson ounty, who has long known Mr. Darden, has romised to give us a brief sketch of his life, emodying some interesting facts. Jackson (Tenn.) Whig, June 18.

"Important Arrest.—Officers Hazen and Flannery arrested, last night, at the Washington House, cor-ner of Walnut and Water streets, a man named Daner of Walnut and Water streets, a man named Da-vid Forney, alias Stedick, who is charged with ar-son in Frankland county, Penn. The fire took place several weeks since, and upward of $70,000 worth of property was destroyed. Forney was a resident of the county and married into a wealthy family, but being of a dissipated and vicious character, by the advice of the friends of the lady, they were sep-arated it is supposed that, actuated by a revengethe advice of the friends of the lady, they were separated. It is supposed that, actnated by a revengeful sprit, he fired the house of his father-in-law, which was consumed, and, the flames communicating to a barn and other buildings in the immediate vicinity, a large amount of property was destroyed. The prisoner was lodged in the county jail, and on Monday will be conveyed to Frankland county, Penn., by the sheriff of that county and officer Hazer.—(In Kan. zen.—Cin. Enq.

GREAT BARGAINS IN SUMMER, FANCY, AND STAPLE DRY GOODS .- We would invite the attention of ladies, especially those visiting our city in search of the latest styles of all kinds of fancy dry goods, to the stock at the house of G. B. Tabb. corner of Fourth and Market streets. In order to reduce his stock previous to making his fall purchases, he will offer from this date until the close of the season his entire stock of fancy silks, berege, grenadine and organdy robes, silk and lace mantillas, embroideries and lace goods, organdy and jaconet muslins, bereges and tissues, parasols, &c., at greatly reduced prices. His stock of the above goods cannot be excelled in point of variety, style, and elegance by that of any other southern or western house. Ladies will find it to their interest before making their purchases to examine the goods at this house.

Corner of Fourth and Market streets. june 18 dj&btf&wj2

We invite the attention of our readers to the very rich stock of jewelry and fine watches of Messrs. F. Yeiser & Co., on Fourth street, under the National Hotel. 'It being their intention to close their business in Louisville, they offer their entire stock at cost. Certainly this renders their store very attractive. It will be seen from their card in another column that they request an early payment of accounts due them.

J. H. McCleary's
NATIONAL TRUNK EMPORIUM,
Corner Main and Fourth sts., Louisville, Ky.

I would respectfully invite the attention of merchants and others visiting the city to my large and elegant ascortment of TRUNKS, which I am prepared to offer at least twenty-five per cent. Lower than any other establishment in the city. My stock embraces a greater variety of Trunks than is kept by any other house in the Western country. Many of the styles are entirely new and cannot fail to please those in want of a Trunk both as regards price and quality. The many advantages which I possess over the other houses in the city, such as manufacturing my own boxes, finishing my own leather, importing my own material, dec., enable me to offer my trunks at much lower prices than any other establishment either in this city or Cincinnati, Merchants and others will be consulting their own interests by giving me a call before making their purchases. Orders promptly attended to. [may 26 d&wjeow&dhiy] decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared onstrictly scientific principles, after the manuer of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave. Because of its great success in nost of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here are there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American unbile, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutious may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirite, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaueous in itseffect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising put the drooping spirit, and, in fact, invaing new health and vigor in the system.

NOTICE.—Whoever expects to find this a beverage will be disappointed; but to the sick, weak, and low spirited it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties.

CAUTION. The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not personaded to huy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holiand litters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how influitely superior it is to all these imitations.

On the 28th of May last, Taylor, it is charged, forged a draft on the above bank for the sum of $3,500, and left the place the following day en route for New York.

On Tuesday the detectives surprised the fugitive while he was in his bed-room. Upon searching the room occupied by the prisoner, a bag containing Upon searching the room occupied by the prisoner, a bag containing $3,000, in gold coin, a gold watch valued at $200, a valuable diamond hreastpin, and other trinkets were found stowed away in various corners of the apartment. Upon the person of Taylor was found a bank-book, from which it would appear that he had $7,000 deposited to his credit in the Broadway Bank of this city, but, upon making inquiries, it was found that he had no money at all in that bank. Some time previous to his arrest be deposited $700 in the bank, but subsequently drew it out, and then altered the teller's entry of $700 to that of $7,000, altered the teller's entry of $700 to that of $7,000, so that it would appear as though he still had a balance of $6,300 credited to him, while he really had no money at all in the hank. In a valise were found some letters which apparently had come to him from some ladies through the Broadway postoffice; also a couple of daguerreotypes of females with whom he had evidently been on intimate terms, and also a receipt from one of the express companies, showing that he had sent a Bible to some Southern church by way of a donation to the pastor thereof.

A HORRIBLE AFFAIR .- A letter from Philadelphia

One of the parties implicated in the murder of constable Muldoon, already mentioned, has made a statement of the facts. This man, Lavery, states that the fight in which the murder was committed took place between persons belonging to rival factions; James Diamond and the two brothers Lavery being the principals on one side, and a Germannamed Frederick Stanmeyer and a friend of his named Lewis Pickering being of the opposite faction. The difficulty has been going on for some time, and on Saturday night the parties named went into the yard to "fight it out." The exhibition was a most brutal one—the men arming themselves with clothes props as weapons of offense, and the mother and sisters of the Laverys being present as spectators. The old woman held a candle during the fight, for the purpose of "seeing fair play," as she herself said. Edward Maldoon, the deceased, hearing of the fracas, entered the enclosure for the purpose of put-One of the parties implicated in the murder of co fracas, entered the enclosure for the purpose of put-ting a stop to the fight, and he announced himself to be an officer. The women then fell npon him and tore his face with their nails. Mr. Muldoon, intent upon per orming his duty, seized by their collars the two men who were fighting, and held them apart. At this moment Michael Lavery states that Diamoud came up and plunged a knife into the stomach of the officer.

The steamer Montreal left at 4 oclock yesterday afternoon for Montreal, with from four to five hundred passengers, mostly Scotch emigrants, recently from Europe. Nothing unusual occurred until the Montreal reached Cape Rouge, 12 or 15 miles above Quebec, when the wood work near the furnaces was Quebec, when the wood work near the furnaces was discovered to be on fire. Directly after, the flames broke forth, causing the utmost consternation amongst the passengers. Every effort was made to arrest the flames, to no purpose. Captain Rudolph, finding it impossible to save the steamer; ordered her to be run toward the shore. Her officers and erew averted themselves at the same time to get out the life-boats. The flames spread with most aston-fishing rapidity. The wildest confusion and despair prevailed throughout the ship. Great numbers of the passengers threw themselves overboard and were drowned. Fortunately the steamer Napoleon for Montreal, was but a few miles distont and out for Montreal, was but a few miles distant and put back with all possible speed to her assistance. The Napoleon succeeded in rescuing from the burning week 127 passengers. Captain Budoiph and the purser of the Montreal were among the number of those who threw themselves into the river, both being excellent swimmers they succeeded in reaching the steamer Alliance and were saved. It is quite possible that others succeded in saving themselves by swimming, but as the steamer became unman-ageable when at considerable distance from the land no doubt most of those who threw themselves from no doubt most of those who threw themselves from the burning boat met a watery grave. Sixteen of those who were saved died shortly after reaching the deck of the Napoleon. From present informa-tion it is believed that the total loss of life from this terrible disaster will not fall short of 300 or 400 persons.

The steamer Alliance arrived here this afteruoon with 45 dead bodies. We have not been able to learn the names of any of those lost, except Mr. Phillips of the extensive lumber firm of Norcross and Phillips of Three Rivers.

The Montreal had on board 258 Scotch emigrants, several German families and several American passengers.

STAGNATION IN FREIGHTS .- The following remarks from the New York Express in regard to sail vessels are applicable also to steamboats on all the Western rivers:

plicable also to steamboats on all the Western rivers:

The present depression of freights seems to be almost at its lowest ebb. The large number of fine clipper ships at present laid up at our wharves, is ample proof of the fact. The Liverpool packets are dependent almost entirely upon the passage traffic at present, for, in truth, that is all that keeps their owners from heavy losses. Nor is New York alone the sufferer. Boston has some of her finest ships at present laid up, in consequence of the rinous rates offered: and, in fact, the same condition of things is visible everywhere. Several of the steamere that we have heretofore noticed as being about to be discontinued, is owing partly to the swall quantity of freight offering, and the low prices for that. There is at present laid up in the port of Quebec about thirteen hundred square-sailed vessels, principally British. To show the extent of the preent depression, we may cite an justance that has come to our knowledge: A ship some time since saired hence for Liverpool, discharged her cargo, which did not pay for the loading and unloading of the vessel. She then made for Bordeaux, and from that port to New Orleaus—took in cotton there, and when she arrived back, it was found that the total losses of her voyage had nearive qualled her entire cost! This is only one instance. There are pleuty of others of the same sort to the order of the presence of the strict quarantine that will be enforced.

The same paper says of the dry goods market:

The importers have closed their trade for the season, and jobbers are doing very little. Many of them are engaged in taking stock, customary at the close of the season. The importations for the trade of the fall are yet very light. Silks of spiring importation are in good stock, and are heavy in price. Woolens are also abundant in market, and at low prices. China and ludia goods are well held, as the stocds are small. In domestic goods the supply is large, and seems to be on the increase. There is very little demand, and the views of holders are rather above those of their customers. The woolen jobbers are doing very little buidness. There is a large amount of foreign woolens in bond, which will soon be offered in the market; and the expectation of this readers prices very unsettled, both of foreign and domestic and woolens in store. [Correspondence of the Richmon | Dispatch.]

At an advanced hour last evening, three slaves, employed by Mr. Edward Gill of Chesterfield, at his residence near Matoaca, were lodged in the jail of this city under very important, and, indeed, fearful circumstances. Their names are, respectively: Rebecca, a cook, and Maria (both owned by Mr. Gill), and John, a slave of Sylvester Pearce, Esq. For several weeks past the entire family of Mr. Gill, consisting of six children, himself, and wife, have been slowly and gradually visited with mysterious diseases, producing internal inflammations, deathly paleness, and exceeding nervousness. In the course of time their youngest child fell a victim to its fatality; and on Saturday last, physicians were called to attend the family, every one of whom had become prostrated, and were laboring under intense pain. PETERSBURG, June 23.

From the character of the symptoms of the affrom the engracter of the symptoms of the fliction, suspicions of poisoning were aroused, which were subsequently fully corroborated by investigation. On the premises of the cook, which were also occupied by the two other servants, were found participated by the two other servants, were found participated by the state of the sta cels of lump and carbonate of lead, with a vial containing the sugar of lead. These similar and deadly poisons, as every attendant circumstance warranted, had been introduced from time to time in the food and drink served to the family, causing a slow process of death. On yesterday (Monday) evening, Ella, the youngest surviving daughter, died under the loathsome affliction. The Chesterfield authorities were immediately consulted all the circumstances fully stated, and the arrest authorized. The rest of the family are slightly improving.
